TERMS OF CONSIGMENT

Dewey's Comic City (hereafter known as DCC) will accept comics, fanzines or other publications on consignment upon receipt of these signed Terms of Consignment.

All items should be clearly priced, labeled as mature or identified as such to DCC as mature, if necessary. All titles will be subject to review and such identification by DCC. All items that are not priced are assumed to be free and no consignment payments will be made.

DCC will pay a publisher 55% of the cover price per copy sold.

DCC will accept up to 5 copies of any issue including back issues of a title.

Publishers should maintain their own records. Receipt of any shipments from a publisher will be made upon email request. Sales information will be provided upon email request. Please allow 7 days for response. Requests may not be made more than once during any 4 month period. Contact dewey@deweyscomiccity.com when requesting sales information. Returns may be made at any time at the request of the publisher or by DCC. DCC will pay for Media Mail postage on whole returns.

It is a publisher's obligation to keep contact information including phone number and email address current at all times.

DCC reserves the right to assume ownership of consigned material if no contact is made within 6 months. Items that are consigned to DCC are subject to consignment review after 3 months and a publisher may be contacted for return of consigned items at any time. Items left unclaimed from more than 12 months become the sole property of Dewey's Comic City.

In the event that DCC is unable to contact the publisher at any time DCC assumes ownership of the material and may depose of it at any time.

DCC is not responsible for stolen, fragile or damaged consigned items. Items should be constructed in such a manner that there are no loose pages or other inserts that can be removed, fall out or be damaged.

Publishers will be paid no more than once every 3 months (exceptions may apply based on demand and sell thru).

Publisher allows DCC to sell, use images of, and quote from consigned material for display and description purposes either in-store, by email, or online.

☐ I have read, understand and agree to the Terms of Consignment stated above.
